

THE CLIENT MESSAGE FRAMEWORK

STEP 1 — Personal Observation

Show that you actually looked at their business.

Instead of talking about yourself...

Talk about THEM.

Examples

✓ I came across your website while researching SaaS startups.

✓ I noticed your Instagram content has great engagement.

✓ I saw your recent LinkedIn post about hiring.

✓ Your landing page caught my attention.

Never fake personalization.

STEP 2 — Mention One Opportunity

Don't criticize.

Don't audit.

Don't say everything is wrong.

Mention ONE improvement.

Example

"I noticed your website explains your services well, but visitors may not immediately see your strongest customer success stories."

This feels helpful instead of salesy.

STEP 3 — Position Yourself

Only now introduce yourself.

Very short.

Example

I'm an AI-assisted copywriter helping startups improve landing pages and conversion-focused messaging.

That's enough.

STEP 4 — Offer Small Value

Never ask for a job immediately.

Instead

Offer something useful.

Example

I'd be happy to share three quick suggestions I noticed.

or

I recorded a short Loom video with a few ideas.

or

I drafted one improved headline for your homepage.

Give before asking.

STEP 5 — Low-Friction CTA

Don't ask

Can we schedule a meeting?

Instead

Would it be helpful if I shared it?

or

Interested?

or

Should I send it over?

Easy replies create conversations.
